Once again, the WTR 1000 guide published by World Trademark Review has highlighted BMA as one of the leading firms in Brazil in trademarks.

The publication recognizes the best practitioners and law firms, using an extensive qualitative survey that assesses the level of work performed, market presence and customer feedback.

WTR highlighted BMA's excellence in the full-service model and referred to us as one of the leading law firms in Brazil in Intellectual Property, according to international clients.

Our Intellectual Property partners Antonella Carminatti, Claudia Schulz and José Eduardo Pieri were also named as a reference and recognized individually for their competence and efficiency.
