

BMA is recommended by International Financial Law Review - IFLR 1000

12.08.2020 1 min read

The 30th edition of IFLR 1000 highlights BMA in five practice areas, Banking and Finance, Capital Markets - Debt, Capital Markets - Equity, Project Finance and Private Equity. The results are based on the firm's transactional record and feedback from clients and market participants.

The IFLR 1000's assessment not only evidences the efficiency of the services we provide to companies from a wide variety of sectors, in the national and international markets, it highlights our firm's commitment, in its work, mission, and values, to offering sustainable and innovative solutions to clients.

Recognition such as this inspires us to look to the future, in search of opportunities for innovation and constant improvement in our services, to ensure that the trust deposited in us by our clients will produce returns that exceed their expectations.

Differently from past editions, the IFLR 1000 results are being disclosed gradually, in four different groups over a period of four months.

Click here to the results in the first group, covering Asset Finance, Banking and Finance, Bank Lending, Financial Restructuring, Financial Services Regulatory, and Project Finance.

Click here for the second group, covering Capital Markets (debt, derivatives, equity, high yield, and structured finance and securitisation), Investment Funds (private equity, real estate, registered, regulated, REIT and retail investment funds) and Private Equity.