Chambers and Partners has released the results of Chambers Brazil: Transactional, a guide to the country's most respected lawyers and law firms.

Since the beginning of 2021, Brazil has had a guide of its own, and is no longer part of the Latin America guide. This is the latest release of Chambers Brazil, which is divided into three parts: Chambers Brazil: Contentious, which was published in March, Chambers Brazil: Industries & Sectors and Regions, published in July, and Chambers Brazil: Transactional, published today.

In this third release, BMA was ranked in Capital Markets, Corporate/M&A: Elite, Real Estate and Tax: non-contentious. BMA lawyers Amir Bocayuva, Ana Paula Reis, Camila Goldberg, Cristiana Moreira, Cristiane Mamprin, Francisco Müssnich, Hermano Notaroberto Barbosa, Jane Goldman Nusbaum, José Otavio Faloppa, Luiz Antonio de Sampaio Campos, Monique Mavignier and Paulo Cezar Aragão are all individually highlighted in the guide.

Once again, Chambers has recognized our partner Paulo Cezar Aragão as a Star Individual, and associates Ana Paula Reis and Jane Goldman Nusbaum appear for the first time in this edition.

We are delighted to complete this cycle of releases of the 1st edition of Chambers Brazil, and see the recognition won by our work in different areas of the law. In total, we have been recognized in 14 practice areas, with 29 of our practitioners highlighted in the guide.

We are proud to congratulate our team on this most recent achievement, which reflects their dedication and the excellence of their work in searching for creative, personalized solutions for each of our clients.
