Recognition

We have been recognized by important guides to the best law firms around the world published by Law Business Research.

Once again, BMA has been named an Elite firm in the Brazilian legal market in the GCR100 ranking published by Global Competition Review, which highlights the best Competition law firms in the world. To arrive at the result, GCR conducts qualitative and quantitative surveys to evaluate and recognize the law firms that are references in this area of practice.

And in the second edition of Global Data Review, BMA is one of the GDR100, which highlights the top firms that act in matters related to data processing, such as M&A, antitrust, intellectual property, and data privacy and protection.

It's an honor to be highlighted in publications such as these, which reflect BMA's dedication to excellence and the place it has earned as reference in various areas of practice.

Congratulations to all our practitioners on this newest achievement!
