Recognition Camila Goldberg

March, as the international women's month, is an important annual milestone in our efforts toward gender equality. We are pleased and proud to end this month by celebrating the recognition given in IFLR100 Women Leaders to Camila Goldberg, a partner in our Financial and Capital Markets practice, as one of the women practitioners who stands out for her work and for her leadership in the Brazilian legal market.

This is the fifth edition of the guide which highlights prominent women practitioners in financial and corporate transactions, and approximately 1,000 were ranked in the publication in 2022. It is the second consecutive year that Camila is part of this selected group, which in Brazil this year have 8 lawyers.

BMA places enormous value on the fundamental work that our women professionals perform, whether in leadership positions or not, and we are proud of how they have won recognition among our clients and in the market in general.
