

BMA's tax practice is recognized by International Tax Review

28.09.2021 1 min read

Authors

José Otavio Haddad Faloppa

Lígia Regini

Maurício Pereira Faro

Thais de Barros Meira

Vivian Casanova

Our Tax practice has been recognized as a market reference by International Tax Review again this year. We have been highlighted in the World Tax guide, in the categories General Corporate Tax, Transactional Tax and Tax Controversy; in the World Transfer Pricing guide; and in the Leaders Guide: Women in Tax.

ITR also recognized our practitioners for the excellence of their work over the course of the year:

- José Otavio Haddad Faloppa - EG: Tax
- Lígia Regini - Tax controversy and Women in Tax
- Luiza Lacerda - Indirect tax, Tax controversy and Women in Tax
- Maurício Pereira Faro - Tax controversy
- Thais De Barros Meira - EG: Tax
- Vivian Casanova de Carvalho Eskenazi - Tax controversy and Women in tax, EG: Tax

Related areas

Tax

Topics

Recognition

To arrive at the results released in this edition of its guides, ITR heard more than 10,000 clients and some 2,700 market peers.

With its multidisciplinary approach, BMA Tax stands out for innovative and individualized solutions in the tax-related matters in different types of businesses and economic sectors.

Congratulations to all our practitioners on this achievement!

Click here to see what ITR says about us in World Tax.

Click here to see what ITR says about us in World Transfer Pricing.

› PROFESSIONALS

Professionals who combine legal insight and market perspective

José Otavio Haddad Faloppa

Lígia Regini

Maurício Pereira Faro

Thais de Barros Meira

Vivian Casanova